

carol & frank Debuts New 2019 Collection

Coastal Palm Springs Colors and Retro Desert Modernism Lead the Way

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. -- March. __, 2019 - PRLog -- carol & frank looked West for inspiration for their latest 2019 collections, which were debuted in showrooms across the country January 7 - __, 2019. Their latest creations are influenced by classic favorites, desert modernism and vintage Palm Springs style.

Clean lines and geometrics are the bedrock of the new Crawford pillow and Naya bedding, which both feature an intricate black-on-white pattern. These designs engage in the same exploration of geometric negative space that can be seen in the desert modernist architecture of Southern California.

The new Marti pillows feature a detailed design that combines different embroidery techniques to create a fresh, updated take on retro bohemian style. Another innovation by carol & frank that helps to create a chic bohemian mood is the Mimi collection with its wide multicolor yarn and free-spirited energy.

carol & frank also unveiled a new coastal colorway with the 2019 collection: Surf. This refreshing color is a cool tone between turquoise and sky-blue, and exudes a relaxed and sunny beach mood on pillows like Ace and Dash.

One of carol & frank's most popular new releases is Parker: a unique hand-stitched bedding collection that features deliberate tears. It mimics distressed denim for an on-trend rock star look that coordinates with the denim chindi of the new Tucker pillow and the fringe and frayed edges featured on newly released bedding collections Goodwin and Devin.

The 2019 collection from carol & frank uses timeless retro and vintage influences to create a unique blend of mid-century modern and contemporary bohemian style. This style also carries over to the pet collection, which offers coordinating pet scarves and quilts.
