

C&F Home Debuts 2019 Collections

Classic Favorites Expanded and New Innovative Collections are Debuted

NEWPORT NEWS, Va. -- March __, 2019 - PRLog -- C&F Home debuted new and expanded collections in showrooms across the country January 7 - __, 2019. The 2019 collections are characterized by development in classic on-trend categories that are already a strong focus for C&F Home, and also by ventures into new categorizes that expand the reach of C&F Home's products.

Additions to C&F Home's staple on-trend categories include new coastal collections, nautical patterns, and lodge décor. Amber Sands, By The Sea, and Oceanaire Seafoam are just a few examples of collections that provide a cohesive coastal style for the bedroom, bathroom, dining table, kitchen, and living room. By The Sea even extends to the holidays with a coordinating tree skirt and stockings for Christmas.

C&F Home expanded another of its favorite styles with new lodge quilt sets like Huckleberry Sage, Russell, and Lookout Lodge. There is also a strong rustic Christmas representation with Woodford, Lennox, Arlington Plaid, Lockley, and Wild Wood collections that offer coordinating tree skirts, stockings, and accessories. While each of these collections displays a distinct motif and style, they all have an inviting warmth that pairs well with a traditional rustic Christmas or winter lodge theme.

Some of C&F Home's new and innovative collections include pet lover items, new gift collections, and vintage décor.

A fresh new addition to C&F Home's gift items is the fun and humorous collection of stemless wine glasses with clever phrases from "They whine, I wine" to "I have mixed drinks about feelings." There are also coastal, pet, lodge, and nautical designs to match a variety of sensibilities.

Vintage décor with a modern twist is also featured in C&F Home's 2019 collections with styles like the bold Bumble Bee collection. This new design uses a repeating bee pattern that feels modern and contemporary, even while evoking the refinement of French antiques or the quaint romance of a farmhouse in the countryside.

C&F Home is known for high-quality and on-trend bedding and textiles, but now with new categories and innovative developments in the 2019 collections, the brand is going even further to provide everything necessary to make a home.
